Resort Style

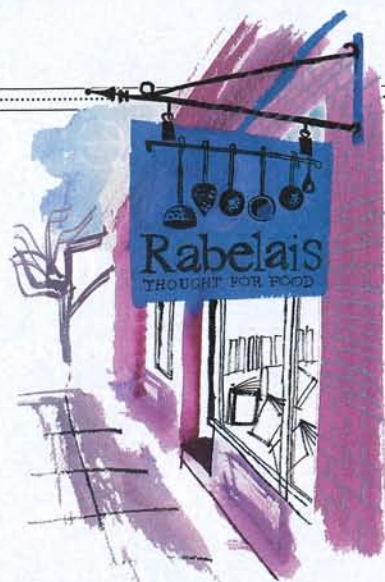

French shoe designer Christian Louboutin has created a limited-edition espadrille collection for One&Only Resorts. Three styles, including Cataribbon (above), will be available this month at One&Only boutiques and select stores. $375; oneandonlyresorts.com.

cookbooks plus 3 QUIRKY NEW SHOPS

These bookstores offer serious home cooks more than recipes.

Rabelais in Portland, ME The owners—a rare-book appraiser and a former pastry chef—stock quirky texts like notes written in 1905 on breeding pigs for bacon. 86 Middle St.; rabelaisbooks.com.

La Cocotte in Paris The owner sells her own line of tea towels and aprons as well as great cookbooks. 5 rue Paul Bert; lacocotte.net.

Mmmmh! in Brussels This year-old cooking school-cum-bookshop also sells esoteric ingredients like Orleans vinegar. 92 de la Chaussée de Charleroi; mmmmh.be.

Three Luxurious Outdoor Escapes

These resorts offer new cottages, cabins and tents in gorgeous natural settings.

COTTAGE

Nick's Cove & Cottages Marshall, CA

The News Bay Area restaurateur Pat Kuleto has opened 12 waterfront cottages next to the 1930s seafood roadhouse he restored. Rustic-luxe touches include potbellied stoves and deep copper bathtubs.

Dining Update This summer, Nick's will offer artisan food tours with stops at local purveyors, like Hog Island Oyster Company. Cottages from $165 per night. 23240 Hwy. 1; 415-663-1033 or nickscove.com.

CABIN

Canoe Bay Chetek, WI

The News Four new Frank Lloyd Wright-inspired, eco-sensitive cabins were built using local materials like Chilton limestone. Each cabin has a large cedar deck with Adirondack chairs and views of Lake Wahdoon.

Dining Update New executive chef Randy Lewis, an F&W Best New Chef 2001, will be leading foraging trips on the resort's 280 acres. Cabins from $695 per night. W16065 Hogback Rd.; 800-568-1995 or canoebay.com.

TENT

The Resort at Paws Up Greenough, MT

The News River Camp—with six stylish tents set on the Blackfoot River, each with a private deck and shared personal butler—opens this month. Two are family-size with separate kids' quarters.

Dining Update The resort will host the Montana Master Chefs food and wine festival October 9–12. Guests include Daniel Humm of NYC's Eleven Madison Park, an F&W Best New Chef 2005. Tents from $670 per night. 40060 Paws Up Rd.; 800-473-0601 or pawsup.com.
