NOW BEING SERVED AT PAWS UP.

THE LATEST SURVIVAL SKILL WE TEACH: THE KILLER BACKHAND.

For the first time ever, Paws Up is serving up tennis lessons with former professional tennis player Melissa Detwiler. She developed tennis programs throughout Los Angeles and introduced the popular Henry the Sports Bug™ program for young children. This summer, Detwiler brings her game farther north. Known for her enthusiastic and encouraging style, Detwiler will be wearing out our newly constructed tennis court teaching young people ages 3–16 how to excel at tennis. Her extensive skill set combined with Montana’s inspiring environment leaves little doubt—putting your kids in her hands at The Resort at Paws Up® is a stroke of genius.
