

WFLCOME TO YOUR CLASSROOM

WILDERNESS WORKSHOPS AT THE RESORT AT PAWS UP-ART, MUSIC AND OUTDOOR SKILLS

In Our Workshops, Walls Would Only Be Barriers to Learning.

What if you could have an epic vacation and learn what makes the outdoors great at the same time? At The Resort at Paws Up, our Wilderness Workshops take the "work" out of "workshop" and replace it with fun. Paws Up guests learn outdoor skills that would make Kit Carson jealous. Or that help you get in touch with Mother Nature by painting her wild side or shooting photos in her best light. Or that get the whole family in rhythm through drumming as you've never heard it. The Montana wilderness is calling. This is a great way to answer.

PAINT 'N' POUR JUNE 17, JULY 8 AND AUGUST 5, 2018

There's nothing like a little wine to awaken your inner Frida Kahlo or Fredric Remington. Let us pour you a glass while talented local artist Linds Sanders instructs you on the finer points of painting. Every time Sanders returns to Paws Up to teach this incredibly popular Wilderness Workshop, good times abound. With step-by-step guidance in a fun and friendly atmosphere, you'll be creating a masterpiece of your own making in no time. Canvases, paint, wine and laughter included.

LINDS SANDERS: Artist in Residency

Pick up your paintbrush with confidence with local artist Linds Sanders. A Montana native, Sanders manages Zootown Arts Community Center and owns Ramble Journals, hand-bound journals sold to benefit local arts scholarships.

and a low and the state of all and the

The beauty of Montana's landscapes seems to go on forever. In this unique Wilderness Workshop, you'll put paint, and your impressions, to canvas using your own artistic interpretation, completely without boundaries. Abstract artist Danielle LaGoy will introduce you to a variety of techniques using palette knives and regular brushes, along with unconventional tools, so you can create a Montana masterpiece that is truly one-of-a-kind. All artistic skill levels and ages are welcome.

DANIELLE LAGOY: Artist in Residency

Hailing from the Adirondack region of New York, Danielle LaGoy describes herself as a painter interested in the suspension and abstraction of the natural environment. She has exhibited work in New York, Arizona and Chicago and learned to "plein air" paint in Ireland.

Picture this: the sun is making its final breathtaking appearance across the Montana landscape and, this time, you have the skills to capture it with justice. Resort Photographer Stuart Thurlkill teaches how best to photograph subjects and landscapes in the setting sunlight. You'll learn expert tips and techniques, then venture out with him into the field to take photos from a panoramic viewpoint. Bring your camera, or use your phone's camera. Don't forget your hiking shoes!

SUNSET PHOTOGRAPHY JUNE 23, JULY 7 AND AUGUST 4, 2018

TUART THURLKILL: Photographer in Residency

Award-winning Resort Photographer and Filmmaker Stuart Thurlkill excels at providing a visual window into the hearts and minds of his subjects while creating a sense of place from their surroundings. He is well recognized for his exceptional documentary photographs.

Summer is the time to learn primitive skills-you know, the ones that can keep you alive and make your family think you're cool. Spend four days with Gary Steele, Paws Up's resident outdoorsman, at his self-built camp. He'll give you and your family expert instruction in primitive skills and survival techniques such as edible plant identification, fire making, longbow archery, shelter building and tracking. Designed to bring families together in an environment that fosters self-esteem, this workshop is sure to ignite your kids' imaginations.

GARY STEELE: Outdoorsman in Residency

Gary Steele has had a long career as a backcountry guide, blacksmith, outfitter and woodsman and has been leading traditional outdoor skills workshops for years with the help of the nonprofit Inspire Foundation. Yes. he's the real deal: a true mountain man.

When the Montana wilderness seems a little too quiet, we know how to drum up some family excitement. Paws Up welcomes Scott Besaw back for this annual event that turns even the rhythmically challenged into stellar stars of the drum. It's a handson drumming course (literally, no sticks required!) that teaches kids and grown-ups alike the basic principles of music and team building. Come and learn to truly march to the beat of your own drum.

COTT BESAW: Musician in Residency

Scott Besaw has been performing around the country, teaching at the Old Town School of Folk Music in Chicago and entertaining music lovers for almost 30 years. He's performed with the likes of the Blue Man Group and the acclaimed Denver Blue Knights Drum and Bugle Corps.

DRUM CIRCLE MADNESS

V BRUSHES WITH GREATNESS JULY 9–15, 2018

The boulder-strewn waters of the Blackfoot River? The Garnet peaks? The forests of Ponderosa pines? Whichever parts of the Montana landscape speak to you, guest artist George Van Hook will help you capture them in your art. Van Hook will conduct this "plein air" watercolor workshop in a variety of eye-popping settings throughout The Resort. It's a memorable way to learn from a true pro and preserve the unforgettable surroundings at the same time.

GEORGE VAN HOOK: Artist in Residency

As a young man, renowned American painter George Van Hook visited the Louvre and traveled through France, Italy and Holland to study and be inspired by the masters. For more than 35 years, this awardvinning artist has painted and exhibited on three continents.

Note: Each workshop teacher is also available on a fee basis for private demonstrations, lessons or performances. Contact Concierge Services to schedu

You'll Learn a Lot in Our Workshops. And You'll Never Forget Where You Learned It.

To plan your trip to The Resort at Paws Up during one of our Wilderness Workshops, call 877-805-9027 or visit pawsup.com/wilderness-workshops.

40060 PAWS UP ROAD GREENOUGH, MT 59823