Greenough, Montana – The National Cowgirl Museum and Hall of Fame invites women seeking an inspirational, adventure-filled journey to attend an immersion into cowgirl culture. At the Cowgirl Spring Roundup, a three-day weekend event held April 27–30, 2017, at The Resort at Paws Up, 50 guests will tackle self-improvement workshops and hone their equestrian skills under the tutelage of Cowgirl Hall of Fame Honorees. This year's honorees include Sandy Collier, a champion rider, author, trainer and equestrian competition judge; Deborah Fellows, a sculptor and former barrel racer; Patricia E. Kelly, the founder and CEO of Ebony Horsewomen and the award-winning ranch-life photographer Barbara Van Cleve.

The four legendary cowgirls honored by the National Cowgirl Museum and Hall of Fame in Fort Worth, Texas, will host the roundup. They'll immerse you in the ways of the West with educational workshops, trail rides, photography clinics and nightly campfire gatherings. As featured on CBS This Morning, the roundup is an all-inclusive weekend package priced at $1,899 per person. The package includes luxury home accommodations, all meals, airport transfers, pristine mountain trail rides and close-up conversation with the honorees.
